BILL GARREN, who still owns the parking lot behind Albany Theatre, has offered use of it to merchants and/or their customers during the holiday season. Some business people in the area and requested two-hour parking because the "parking enforcement officer" DOES come around with those chalk marks and tickets on a pretty regular basis. Consensus seems to be the idea of the gal in the first place was to keep traffic moving on Solano and San Pablo, so keep moving and get a ticket.

Four Albany Men Sought To Complete Survey

About 35 years ago—in 1930—Professor E. K. Strong, Jr., of Stanford University conducted a large-scale study of the vocational interests of 15-year-old boys. He asked several hundred boys to fill in his interest inventory, the "Strong Vocational Interest Blank," and made an extensive analysis of their answers. The University of Minnesota is now trying to locate these boys for further research. Two main questions will be studied: how well do the interests of 15-year-old boys predict their adult occupation and how do the interests of the 15-year-olds compare with the interests of the 50-year-olds? Almost all of the original group has been located. Among the missing are four who lived in Albany in 1930:

John Viarengo of 1134 Stranage, Wesley Thomas Wilson of 1221 Washington Ave. If any of the men are here or if any of the Times readers know their whereabouts, please write Dr. David P. Campbell, University of Minnesota, Minneapolis, Minn. 55455. We'd also appreciate a call at the Times (525-1510) to see how many we can find.

Car Wash Rescheduled

Note of Thanks

One year ago today, our mother and daughter passed away. As a special remembrance to them, we would like to express our heartfelt thanks to all of our many friends and relatives for their kindness, beautiful floral pieces, and generous donations on behalf of our departed loved ones.

Leaders Urge Immediate Action on Solano Ave. Project

Chamber of Commerce President Joe Dagna and Chairman William Garren urged immediate action to get the Solano Avenue Beautification and Lighting program under way at Monday night's Council meeting.

Garren said one of the first things to be done is to get wires underground. He asked the City to apply to PG&E to underground the system at no cost to the city. He said it will cost individual merchants between $200 and $800 to connect to the system. This estimated total of $32,000, he indicated, might be paid by the city over a period of three years.

Two assessment districts would have to be created, Garren said. Lighting would cost $27,500, and beautification district, $32,000. The committee hopes to form the assessment districts at a cost of approximately $10 per front foot.

Garren indicated merchants might be willing to take over upkeep of plants for at least three years. Dagna said Albany Rotary club has pledged $500 toward the cost of preliminary architect's drawings, estimates, etc. He said he was sure 10 merchants would contribute $50 each for a total of another $500. He asked the city to match this money and contribute $1,000.

Both men urged getting the project under way immediately while enthusiasm is at a peak and to seek federal funds, if available at a later date. Council referred the matter to a joint work session last night with members of the Planning and Zoning commission.

COUNCIL

Sewer Connection Charge Ordinance Passes 5-0

Albany City Council unanimously passed for first reading Monday night an ordinance which will set a $75 charge for connecting to the sanitary sewer system.

The ordinance is expected to be passed to print at the next meeting of Council, Monday, Dec. 12. It will be published in the Times Dec. 14. (Councilmen will not meet Dec. 5 because they will be attending a meeting in Las Vegas.)

During discussion, several council members said this ordinance is only half the package they hoped to pass. A related charge for sewer service would, they said, raise funds sorely needed for major reconstruction of sewer lines.

Rumford Honored
Assemblyman W. Byron Rumford was roundly applauded as he accepted a resolution of commendation for his years of service to the City of Albany. The resolution was signed by all councilmen and Albany department heads.

DECIDED to invite Senators Nicholas Petris and Lewis Sherman to meet with Council in a work session.

CHRISTMAS MAILING ES SUGGESTED POSTMASTER KOHLER

George Kohler said and strong cord and be sure to put an extra label carrying the recipients name and address and your name and address inside of each package. Cartons containing several gift packages should be well stuffed with tissue or old newspapers to cushion the contents."

If you have articles of unusual size or bulk, better check with the post office before attempting to mail them to be sure they are within size and weight limits.

The Postmaster further advises to send your Christmas cards by First Class mail, this assures their being forwarded if recipient has moved or that undeliverable cards will be returned if return address is on the envelope.

Before you mail your Christmas cards, secure free labels from the post office which read, "All For Local Delivery" and "All For Out Of Town Delivery," so that you can sort your cards into two bundles, with the addresses all facing one way, thus expediting delivery.

Peace Corps Test Monday, Dec. 5

Area residents interested in putting their skills to use in developing nations around the world are invited to take the Peace Corps placement test at 3 p.m. on Monday, Dec. 5, at Room 215, Oakland Post Office, 13th and Alice.

The Peace Corps uses the placement test to determine how an applicant can best be utilized overseas. The test measures general aptitude and the ability to learn a language, not education or achievement. The placement test requires no preparation and is non-competitive—an applicant can neither pass nor fail.

The application form, not the placement test, is the most important factor in the selection of volunteers. Persons interested in serving in the Peace Corps must fill out an application, if they have not already done so, and present it to the tester before taking the test. Applications may be obtained from local post offices.

The placement test takes about an hour and a half.

Three Lions club trophies were presented to Chad Baca, most valuable back; Steve Layne, most valuable lineman, and Niel Bair, most inspirational player. All were selected by other members of the team.

Chairman Bill Potts and Coach Robert Hoyle presented medals to all members of the squad, the cheerleaders, pompon girls and managers. Other squad members include John Woody, George Williams, Rich Cortese, Rick Cavallero, Brad Smith, Tom Rounds, Dan Senst, Ed Wentland, Mitch Marengo, Ed Madrid, Larry Gaunt, Mike Vogel, Bruce Schroff, Steve Valenzuela, Ron Iserra, Jim Rooney, Peter Van Coops, Skip Casey, Ed Samuelson, Gerry Thauberger and Bill Holm.

Coach Hoyle gave a humorous resume of the football season. "Some are winning seasons and others are character-building seasons," he said. "This was a character-building season."

He predicted, "Next year we can win if we stick together. . . . You're different people today than you were in September because you worked on this football team."

He paid tribute to the school staff who supported the team. Al Drozda, Lions club president, was master of ceremonies.

Get Further Education, Pete Olson Urges Football Team, Students

Handsome, personable Pete Olson, 1957 winner of the Solano Avenue Merchants Trophy for the Most Valuable Player at Albany High school, returned to the 11th annual Lions Club Football banquet Tuesday night as guest speaker.

A graduate of Cornell elementary and Albany High school (1958), Pete went on to the University of California where he played quarterback on the 1960 and 1961 football squads, graduating in 1963. He will graduate from Hastings Law school next June.

Speaking to an audience of more than 100 at Cerrito City club, the Albany young man urged the high school students present to get all the further education they can to broaden themselves and gain exposure to a variety of activities before they decide on their careers.

He said higher education is stimulating, rewarding and pleasant.

"One of the important things is job satisfaction," he said, speaking primarily to boys. "The only way to develop yourselves fully is to find what will give you that satisfaction. . . . It becomes more difficult after you've taken a job rather than going on to school."

Higher education, he said, gives impetus to move, to be versatile and individual. In addition, he urged his audience to learn to utilize their leisure time to try something new and open new areas of interest and avenues of expression.

ALBANY YOUNGSTERS MAY RIDE WITH AC SANTA

Albany youngsters will have a chance to ride along with jolly St. Nick himself Saturday, Dec. 3, when he rolls briskly through the East Bay on the Santa Claus Express—an AC Transit bus transformed into an international "Happy Holidays" greeting.

The bus, painted a bright Christmas green, features 21 red and white cut-outs of Santa Claus, proclaiming—in almost as many different languages—a universal wish of happiness and good will.

The district's own Santa Claus, Nicholas P. Alevizos, superintendent of the Richmond division and oldest practicing Santa Claus in the East Bay, will be aboard Saturday for the first day's run of the traditional Christmas coach to take personal requests from young passengers and to express the district's message in as many communities as possible.

His hefty pack will include free candy canes for the children.

On its initial course, the Santa Claus Express will operate over Line 72 from Richmond, via El Cerrito, Albany, West Berkeley, to Oakland. It then will proceed over Line 82 routing from Oakland, through East Oakland and San Leandro to Hayward via East 14th St. and Mission Blvd. Returning to Alameda, it will operate on Line 51 through Alameda, Oakland and Berkeley.

Schedule

The Christmas bus will operate through Albany along San Pablo Ave., leaving Carlson Blvd. at 11:20 a.m., Solano Ave. at 11:22, and Gilman St. at 11:24, continuing into Berkeley and downtown Oakland.

Passengers will be able to ride the Santa Claus Express as a regular bus by payment of the usual fare. Youngsters under five years of age accompanied by an adult may ride free. The coach will go into scheduled service, with regular operators, on Sunday, operating over major trunk lines of the district until Christmas, including periodic transbay runs to San Francisco.

The Christmas bus will be as-

AHS SENIORS PRESENT 'CURIOUS SAVAGE' THIS FRIDAY NIGHT
Albany High school seniors will present "The Curious Savage," a three-act comedy by John Patrick, in the school auditorium at 8 p.m. this Friday, Dec. 2.
In the leading role as the humorous elderly Mrs. Savage is Helen Battermann, a senior recently transferred from Nebraska. Mrs. Savage's children are played by Martie Teeter who is Lily Belle, a callous woman of the world; Mark Bachman who is a sober and humorless senator, and Galen Wolf as Samuel, a weak-willed and undistinguished judge.
Patients are played by Jill Gribben in the role of Fairy May, a gay and sanguine girl in her early twenties; Tony Cravotto, Jeffrey, a World War II shock victim; Kathleen Valentine, Florence, a gentle and eager to please woman; JoEllen Arnold, Mrs. Paddy, a dumpy, middle-aged woman of awesome ferocity and hostility; and Mark Hampton, Hannibal, a man in his thirties, who clings to a violin for security. Wendy Polivka is the nurse, Miss Wilhelmina, and Terry LeGate is Doctor Emmett.
The play is under the direction of Albany High school art teacher Freeman Sargent. According to Sargent, "The Curious Savage" is a difficult play to do. There are so many subtle characters to present. Assisting Sargent are student director Lynn Duxader, scenic designer Pat Nelson, stage director Len Thompson and properties, Marilyn Senior.
Tickets are 75 cents per person and may be purchased from any senior class member or at the door.
The play was first performed on Broadway in 1950, with Lillian Gish in the starring role. The play concerns 10 million dollars in negotiable bonds which the owner, Mrs. Savage, wants to give away to people in need. Because of this "happiness fund," Mrs. Savage's children place her in a home for the mentally disturbed, called the Cloisters. The patients in this institution are very near recovery and almost ready for release. These characters are warm, cheerful, and cooperative, rather than sad or repulsive.
